Printed on a one-pull press

Reprinted from the Lavagna edition of 1478 (Juv021), not from Zarothus’s earlier edition of 1476 (Juv019) as stated by Ganda. For example, the heading on a1^r, the explicit to the Juvenal and the colophon all follow Juv021. In the BNF copy, the Register is bound out of place (as are several other leaves). There seems no doubt that it should appear after gathering h, as in the earlier Milanese editions (nos. Juv020 and Juv021). Ganda gives the final unsigned gathering as two leaves with the second blank. In the colophon, the ‘v’ in ‘viii’ is printed in a wrong-fount gothic.

As this edition is a quarto printed on royal paper, it is probably that it a further example of a quarto by half sheets printed on a one-pull press as Juv020 and Juv021.
